

ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN

The Architectural Design program prepares students to enter the field of architecture and provides a basic overview of the fundamental skills essential to the field, suitable for entry-level employment as an office assistant. The Design Concentration focuses upon studio-based design projects, drawing, and presentation skills.

Select options in left navigation for information about individual programs.
Vocational Programs Website (<https://www.mtsac.edu/vocational/>)