

MATHEMATICS

The Mathematics and Computer Science Department at Mt. SAC offers courses in pre-collegiate and college-level mathematics, as well as in computer science, including fundamentals, programming, and data structures. The department has over 90 faculty members and provides various learning and computing resources to students. Explore our web site to learn more about our courses, faculty, labs, and other resources.

Select options in left navigation for information about individual programs.

Math and Computer Science Website (<http://www.mtsac.edu/math/>)